FIFTEEN CENTS

THAT FAMOUS World War I flying ace, Snoopy, dropped in for Antioch's Maxwell Street Days last week. He greeted folks at Walsh's All-Seasons and posed with Timothy Happel, 4, of Lombard, Ill., and Kim Schillinger of the Walsh's sales team.

Lions' Picnic Huge Success

About 5,000 persons flocked to the park near the Aqua Center for the Antioch Lions Club's annual Farmers Picnic, Chicken-Bar-B-Que and Auction.

"That was our biggest picnic yet," said Earl Stringer, president of the club.

"We want to thank the entire community. I couldn't believe how beautiful the turnout was, and the weather too. It was all just great," he said.

The Lions sold about 3,000 chicken dinners, Stringer said, not to mention the traffic at the refreshment, roast corn, watermelon and cotton candy stands.

Adults participated in the Lions' fantastic auction for the benefit of the Antioch Rescue Squad. They sold everything from livestock to old cars, from new bicycles to old antiques.

It probably will take a couple of weeks before the profits are added up, according to Jim Fields, captain of the rescue squad.

"Be sure to mention Don Pittman," Fields Said.

Pittman purchased a steer, three pigs and a cabinet. The animals were prize winners from the previous week's Lake County Fair.

He said he would have them slaughtered and then processed at Jo-Pat's Antioch Packing

Antioch, Neighbors Discuss Boundaries

The plan commissions of Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst met in joint session last week to discuss boundary lines and growth of the three villages.

Fee Schedule Adopted for Annexations

By BETSY ROSSEN

With only half of the six trustees in attendance, the Antioch village board Monday passed an annexation petition ordinance and fee schedule. The new legislation allows for fee levying for those filing for annexation.

"This enables the village to recapture all the money spent for such petitions," trustee Diane "Willie" Kasik explained. She added that the fee schedule is subject to change through the ordinance, covering the services of the engineer, attorney and planner involved in petitions, will remain constant. Previously the village had paid for the services.

PARKING CONDITIONS in the village were again brought to board attention as public works and buildings chairman Mike Haley recommended Harland Bartholomew and Associates be contacted about a potential lot to the east of Main St. The village planners will be asked the cost of a feasibility study on the issuance of parking revenue bonds.

Supt. of Public Works Walter Shepard announced that work will begin next Monday on Rt. 173. The contract for highway improvement has been awarded to Lakeland Construction Co., which will work from Rt. 83 to Interstate 94 and utilize detours at Deep Lake and Hunt Club roads.

Shepard also explained a Main St. water valve proposal involving lines from Orchard to North avenues. One valve will be installed south of First St., the Williams St. valve repaired and the Orchard valve checked. The contract was awarded to the Rossetti Contracting Co. of Rolling Meadows at $1,250 per valve.

The meeting was held in Antioch's village hall and was unofficially led by Lindenhurst commissioner Lowell Lloyd. Antioch's Representation was chaired by Judy Phillips and included Don Amundsen, Bruce Jablonski and plan commission chairman Ken Wierschem.

Lloyd presented a map of Antioch and Lake Villa townships, indicating proposed boundary changes of the three villages. A main purpose of the periodic meetings is to avoid conflicting adjacent zoning, such as industrial and residential.

Mrs. Phillips believes that although little actual planning was accomplished, the session aided communication between the villages.

Antioch's eastern expansion plans, according to Wierschem, stop at Deep Lake Rd. south of Rt. 173. Lindenhurst growth to the west was designated by Lloyd to stop at the Circle D Ranch, 1434 E. Grand Ave. When questioned by Antioch, Lake Villa representatives stated they had "no aspiration" for northeastern expansion bordering Antioch.

Also discussed by planners was Thomas Santino's Antioch Country Club Development.

Wierschem said that annexation of the property is a dead issue as far as Antioch is concerned. He added that the development would probably be built in the unincorporated area of the county.

ONE OF LIFE'S excruciating pleasures (for little kids, at least) is a bout with a delicious heap of cotton candy. Bobby Mattson of Rt. 1, Antioch, enjoys himself at the Lions Club picnic.

The weather sure did cooperate with the Antioch Lions Club this year. I've never seen so many people at the Chicken Bar-B-Que before. Needless to say, everyone had a great time. Sure was tough trying to get some of that scrumptious corn, though.

We know one gal who was thoroughly disgusted when the guy in front of her ordered 36 ears — there were barely three left for her!

Cotton candy and watermelon sales were terrific. Never did see so many kids with different colored teeth. There were several interesting pieces auctioned off — all in all I'd say Rescue Squad and Lions Club members worked pretty hard to make the day a huge success.

HEAR TELL there's a new place in town, and that's the name of it, too.

The New Place is now open at the intersection of Hy. 83 and Grass Lake Rd. from 11 a.m. till 2 p.m.

New owner Bill Georgeson (who also has the World Famous Village Pub) is refurbishing The New Place in a delightful style.

NICE TO HEAR Bob Yanca of Smiley's won the car. Quite a year for him — a new son and a new car.

Snoopy visited the Woods' house last Sunday evening delighting guests and bringing LaVerne a large loaf of Butternut bread to help him celebrate his birthday.

Coach Ivan Blanchette and his wife Dorothy with lots of help from Bernie and Shirley Gutowski hosted a pool party last Friday evening for the Babe Ruth League champs (Antioch Drugs). All you fellas sure looked cute in your swim caps!

Agnes Andersen of Rt. 2, Antioch, retired on Aug. 1 after 32 years of serving in the white stock department of Pickard China. Fellow workers are treating her to a dinner at the Colony House in Trevor, Wis.

Get wells to Harriett Albano who is in the hospital undergoing tests.

EMERY AND Geraldine Chandler have just returned from Europe where they toured England, Normandy, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and France. One of the highlights of their trip was a stop in the little village of Frick, which was founded by and named for Mrs. Chandler's paternal ancestors.

letter to the editor

Dear Editor,

I want to publicly reprimand myself for trusting my child to the Lions Club at their picnic. For years he has played the games while I was at the auction. This year I watched the horrible game called "Catch the Chicken."

Thirty or forty children against one chicken. The results were awful for the chicken. It was a most brutal game and I let them teach this to my child.

Everyone I tried to object to either didn't agree or tried to pretend they didn't know it even happened. I know I am not the only one who objects to this game.

I think the picnic is too nice and the cause too great to be ruined by such a game.

Sincerely,
Alice Leahy

BARRY GOLDWATER

People Are Challenging Power of Bureaucrats

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

Some rein on the power of the federal bureaucracy is beginning to show up in the courts of the nation.

More and more, legal actions are cropping up against federal agencies which have ignored or refused to abide by new laws adopted by the Congress.

A recent report in The Washington Post on this phenomenon stated: "Court actions against federal agencies are becoming common: Congress passes a law, an agency ignores it, the people sue and the court acts . . ."

AN EXAMPLE of the type of legal action becoming more frequent is a suit brought by 17 farm worker organizations against the Department of Labor for not taking action to assist migrant farm workers in accordance with the law.

As a result, Judge Charles Richey of the U.S. District Court in Washington ordered the Department of Labor to deliver "all manpower services, benefits and protections, including the full range of counseling, testing, training, and job referral services authorized by law" to the migrant workers.

The court ordered the Labor Department to comply with the Wagner-Peyser Act affecting an estimated 5 million workers and dependents in the migrant field.

IN EFFECT the court challenged the Washington bureaucracy and the officials in 50 state employment service programs and 2,700 field offices to abide by the federal statutes.

The news that the American people are at long last beginning to take matters into their own hands to curb the excesses and arrogance of the federal power brokers is encouraging.

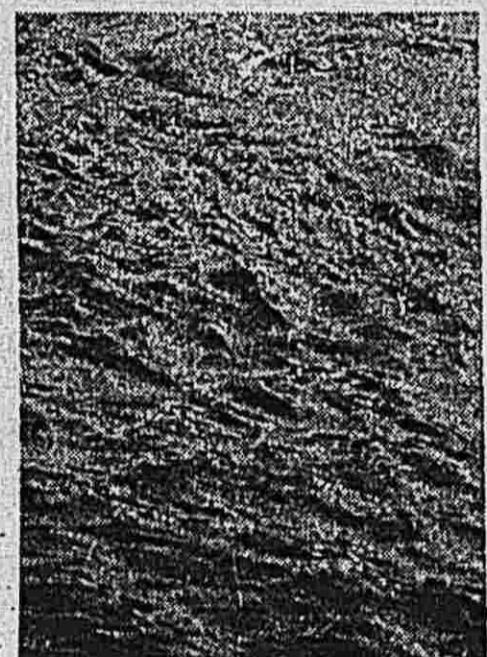

It has long been my belief that the only way we can make any progress against the power of the bureaucrats is for the American people to become sufficiently aggravated to demand changes.

The Town Crier

Our good friend Frank Skrzyniecki says he enjoys the Polish jokes that appear in this column.

We don't want to disappoint Frank, so especially for him we're printing this picture of a Polish battleship:

HEAR ABOUT the lady in Memphis who was admiring Elvis Presley's Cadillac in a parking lot when the famous singer appeared and said he would see that she got one? He not only bought her a new Cadillac but threw in some cash.

I've been standing around admiring John Teresi's Oldsmobile, but so far no luck.

GETTING LOW on clean clothes last week I appeared Thursday during Maxwell Street Days in an old pink shirt.

The young salesman wasn't trying to insult me ... he really appeared sincere and was attempting to be helpful.

But when I asked if he had any Bermuda shorts, he shook his head and said:

"No, in your size we only have funny looking colors, like your shirt."

DAVE MARR, the New York golf pro who won the PGA championship about 15 years ago, no longer plays well enough to challenge the game's big stars. But since he's one of the coolest cats on the tour, he often shows up as a commentator for televised tournaments.

He has one line that is simply beautiful:

"Between us," says Dave, "Jack Nicklaus and I have won 15 major championships."

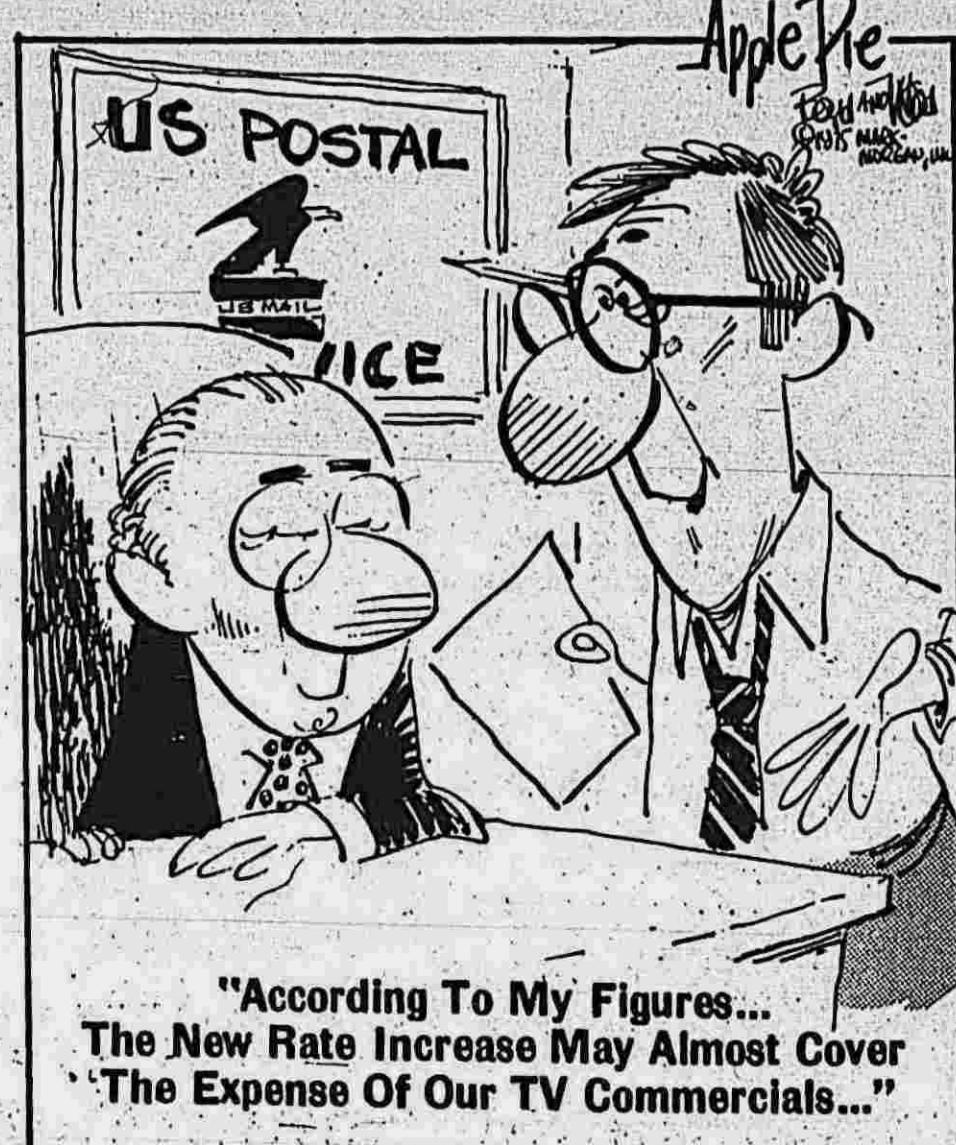

TITLE IX federal legislation would require equal sports competition for women, including football scholarships.

We think it is fine if girls want to participate in sports ... but college football? What comes next? Boxing?

We really don't mind if the Russian women keep beating ours in international competition. Fortunately, in this country a lady doesn't have to throw the discus 130 feet in

2 Drownings In Area Lakes

The Antioch area was the scene of two drownings last week, Lake County's 12th and 13th this year.

Robert Johnson, 26, of Franklin drowned early Wednesday morning while fishing off a pier near Haisman's Resort on Lake Marie. Though friends with him said he was a good swimmer, he slipped into the water and disappeared.

His body was found by the Antioch Underwater Recovery Team at 6:45 a.m. in six feet of water. He was reported missing between 1 and 1:30 a.m.

Robert Shafer, a Spring Grove teen-ager, drowned later that day in the Fox River, north of Rt. 173. His body was recovered by the Antioch Rescue Squad in less than an hour.

A 16-year-old companion, Robert Popelka, also from Spring Grove, leaped into the water to find Shafer, after noticing from the shore that he was in distress. Popelka injured his knee in the search underwater and was treated by the rescue squad.

A coroner's jury has been appointed to investigate both cases.

San Francisco's Golden Gate strait is believed to have been named by Sir Francis Drake.

Lake Villa Days: Fun and Frolic

By BETSY ROSSEN

Lake Villa Days are here again!

The annual fire department carnival, a favorite for nearly 50 years, begins at 7 p.m. Thursday and will run through Sunday at Lehmann Park.

No admission is charged and plenty of parking is available in the park, along Cedar Ave., toward the lakefront and in the Railroad St. city parking lot.

Carnival-goers can anticipate food galore, rides, games, prizes, amusements and the traditional crowd-pleasing water fights.

FEATURED RIVALS again this year in the businessmen's competition will be Dalgaard's market, Effinger's Hardware, Hucker & Sons Plymouth and Schneider's Trucking. First and second round eliminations for this event are scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday, with semifinals and finals starting at 2:30 p.m.

Sunday.

Water fight fun also includes the women's competition at 7 p.m. Friday. The fire department gets in the act on Sunday, following the businessmen's finals.

Teams will vie for first, second and third place trophies. In addition, a special award will be given to the worst businessmen's team. The team turning in the worst time in the first and second round eliminations will receive the Bent Hose-Clogged Nozzle awards.

CAPT. BILL Effinger says the department expects crowds to reach 1,500 per night. Other activities include a cash raffle, a bell-ringing contest and the "African Dip," in which town "spokesmen" are perched over a tank awaiting a dunking by baseballs thrown at a lever.

Proceeds from the four-day festivities will help purchase new fire equipment, including a special equipment truck. The department has 35 active members, headed by Chief Elmer Sheehan, Assistant Chief Winsor Dalgaard and Capt. Effinger.

Burglars,

Sgt. Charles Miller and Officer Harold Mason were dispatched to Antioch's Pay-Less Super Market at 2:20 a.m. Sunday when a man called to report that he saw someone trying to enter the store.

Another squad car also arrived and the policemen went to the rear of the building where they apprehended a 17-year-old Chicago youth and a 20-year-old Brookfield youth. The only items reported missing were numerous pop bottles.

A LAKE VILLA woman was arrested in the Jewel Food Store Friday night and charged with shoplifting. An employee had watched her place two packages of meat worth $8.47 in her purse.

Earlier last week a Ben Franklin clerk questioned a person whom she believed was shoplifting. Though several small items were found in her purse, the woman, a rural Antioch resident, blamed her daughter. The daughter denied any knowledge of the offense; however, she "confessed" when her mother threatened her, police said. Both were taken to the station for further questioning.

IN ANOTHER case at the Ben Franklin last week, manager Gregg Dubas stopped a teenager wearing cowboy boots in suspiciously good condition. The youth claimed he had bought them the previous week in Brownsville, but a call revealed the town has no shoe stores. In addition, serial numbers in the boots matched the Antioch store's invoice list, police said.

CLC News

"In its quest for relevance and integrity, our society is beginning to face-up to the topic of death as an appropriate subject to discuss and evaluate," says Frank Nickels, counselor at the College of Lake County.

CLC will offer a course on Wednesday nights titled "The Many Faces of Death."

Death and dying will be examined as a biological and medical reality, as a social and cultural event, as an economic factor of life, as a psychological process, and as a philosophical and religious event.

A clergyman, lawyer and insurance agency will discuss their particular roles as they apply to death and dying. And a field trip to a funeral parlor will afford the opportunity to discuss the aspects of our burial customs with a funeral director.

"We need to face our own personal attitudes toward death and learn to deal with them in a positive way. Only then can we talk calmly and effectively with others, whether he or she may be a dying parent or spouse or close friend," Nickels said.

The seminar begins on Wednesday, Sept. 3, at 7 p.m. Registration at CLC is from Aug. 18 to 20, with an additional week of late registration beginning Aug. 25, up to the time of the first class meeting.

It was the third time that someone has won a new car at the Teresi dealership and Ray and John currently have a new contest underway in which persons can come in and register for a chance to win a new Chevrolet Monza.

Summer Program Aids Reading Skills

This summer 97 elementary school children from the Antioch area have been attending summer school. These students have come from the District 34 schools and St. Peter's, Faith Lutheran, Grass Lake, Emmons and Millburn schools.

This federally funded Title I program costs the local taxpayers nothing and was designed to improve the reading and language arts skills of the youngsters. The program was held at the Antioch Upper Grade School under the direction of Mr. David Booth and included students in second through eighth grades.

Twelve teachers and eight assistants strove for individual attention to reading problems. Interest was further stimulated by arts and crafts, recreation, feature length movies and field trips.

The average reading level increased six months in this concentrated six-week program.

Old Farmer's Riddle: Why did Robin Hood steal from the rich? (Answer below.)

Ask the Old Farmer: I have heard the expression "to eat crow" many times, but I have not been able to find an explanation of where the phrase comes from, and why? F. R., Albany, N.Y.

To eat crow means to accept something which you have fought against, and comes from the ancient job of crow keeper.

The job involved keeping crows from crops and was a sort of penalty, as this man had no opportunity to hunt more appetizing game.

Home Hints: Copper pieces can be cleaned by rubbing them with half a lemon dipped in salt. Follow this up with a good rinsing in hot water . . . Riddle answer: Because poor people have no money.

Astro- Analysis

By Sonia

ARIES [March 21 - April 19] — A continued upswing in social events prevails, providing you with a tight schedule. Avoid extravagant urges which may put a strain on the budget. Shop wisely.

TAURUS [April 20 - May 20] — Separate business issues from personal ones; you can operate more efficiently by knowing exactly where to draw the line. Make allowances for untactful relatives.

GEMINI [May 21 - June 21] — Getting sidetracked by minor interruptions can cause delays; don't allow poor planning to disrupt an otherwise sound plan.

CANCER [June 22 - July 21] — Accomplishing your goals is important but be willing to recognize also the importance of developing other areas of activity such as entertainment.

LEO [July 22 - August 21] — Your good sense of humor carries much weight in influencing others. People are anxious to listen to your suggestions.

VIRGO [August 22 - September 22] — You are able to see things in a more objective light; your strong sense of good judgment, coupled with the tendency to be fair helps to make right decisions.

LIBRA [September 23 - October 22] — Your ability to accept changes is a strong point. Although it's just as important to stand up for your own views, being able to know when to be objective has its values also.

SCORPIO [October 23 - November 21] — Outside interference in personal affairs can cause misunderstandings; so try to keep things under control. Accept suggestions from others only if it's needed.

SAGITTARIUS [November 22 - December 20] — News from a distance can be enlightening, but try to operate on a down-to-earth basis and don't indulge in daydreaming.

CAPRICORN [December 21 - January 20] — Things done in a haphazard manner must be perfected, so concentrate more on detail work. Complete each undertaking with care.

AQUARIUS [January 21 - February 19] — Allow things to develop at a reasonable pace; impatience only causes mistakes and confusion. You benefit through travel.

PISCES [February 20 - March 20] — Consider all the circumstances before you jump to conclusions; making adjustments in plans may be beneficial. Don't dismiss the idea of taking another into your confidence.

OAKWOOD KNOLLS NEWS

By JUDY PHILLIPS

The 2nd annual Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Association picnic will be held Sunday, Aug. 24, from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Linden Lane near the monument.

Time and Donna Hynes, co-chairmen are planning a fun-filled day for all ages. Many games will be played, including a pie eating contest and a tug of war in the water at the beach. Prizes will be awarded.

Buster the Clown and his pal will be on hand to entertain everyone. Bill Georges has donated the use of his famous hot dog wagon again this year. Other refreshments will be served, all at reasonable prices.

So mark your calendar, bring your guests and join all your neighbors at the picnic.

CHUCK AND Shirley Bolwin were honored at a 25th anniversary party at their home July 26, given by Shirley's mother, June Brasshart, and Shirley's sister, Rachel Baur. Approximately 75 guests watched as Chuck and Shirley renewed their marriage vows in a lovely outdoor ceremony conducted by Rev. Williams of the Antioch United Methodist Church.

Wilbur and Darlene Gers were best man and matron of honor. Patty, Candy and Kathy Bolwin were attendants for their mother and Tom Bolwin gave his mother away.

The flower girls were Michelle and Melinda Nelson, nieces of the Bolwins, accompanied by their brother, Matthew Nelson. Mr. Kish supplied the music for the occasion with his beautiful accordian playing.

After the party, Chuck and Shirley drove through town in their car which some of the guests had decorated with streamers, cans and a "Just Re-married" sign. It certainly was a memorable 25th wedding anniversary.

MARY ANN EDENS received a gold watch when she retired recently as president of the Independent Garage Owners Association of Lake County. Congratulations to Mary Ann who was the first woman president of the association.

Geneva Drivers Hot

The mid-season point in the 1975 schedule at Lake Geneva Raceway has been passed and, for the "Young Lions" of late model stock car racing, the championship is still very much in doubt.

Al Schill, Franklin, leads the group but lost ground last week when his newest of two 1975 Camaros failed him in the feature. The runnerup spot is now held by Larry Hicks, Lake Geneva, who won the 1973 championship, and he has been stronger in each race for the past several weeks.

Vern Brown, Libertyville, who switched from a 1973 Camaro three weeks ago to his 1973 Dodge Challenger lost two full nights due to mechanical problems. However, he is still third but only one point ahead of Jack Ester, Antioch.

Sunday night racing at Lake Geneva will end Aug. 31, but until then Bob Mack of the spectator stock car group will have to keep winning to wind up on top of a highly competitive group of drivers.

Records Fall in Close Antioch Invitational Meet

The excitement of a close see-saw meet left local people saying, "Wait 'till next year!" The State Bank's invitational meet hosted teams from Antioch, Libertyville, Barrington, Waukegan and Kenosha.

The home team found that once again the first place trophy eluded them by one-tenth of a second. Brentwood of Waukegan emerged as the winner with Antioch, Kenosha Recreation, Libertyville and Fox Point close behind.

Records fell in 15 events and were tied in two events. Leader in that category was the Antioch team with six records and one tie. Dave Berry took two records (free and back) and tied the butterfly record.

Also getting two records were George Bessette (free and back), John Schmidt (fly) and Ed Berry (IM).

Kenosha Recreation and Brentwood both set four records and Fox Point broke one and tied one.

First place winners were the 12 and under medley relay (Judy Houghton, Ted Bessette, Jean Cilik and John Schmidt), freestyle events (John Schmidt, Phil Jaworek and Trina Spietz); backstroke events (Keith Latz and Judy Houghton) and breast stroke (Ed Fink, Theodore Bessette, Jean Cilik, Ed Berry and Chris Walpole.

The bank wishes to thank everyone involved.

Doggone ...

To Czechoslovakia

Not every 9-week-old puppy gets to travel to Czechoslovakia. But an Antioch-born bloodhound did, becoming the first of her breed to enter the country, leaving O'Hare Airport July 18 to meet her new master, who plans to start a breeding station.

The dog was owned by local breeder Adrienne Nerroth of Rt. 4, Antioch, whose Melissa Sassy Girl gave birth to the first litter that she has bred May 15.

The buyer, Jiri Pilk, got in contact with Mrs. Nerroth through the New York-based American Bloodhound Club of which she is a member. Much of the preparation and transaction was done through an interpreter, Jaroslav Kudrna, a friend of Pilk and employee of a Czech airline.

But the new owner has been learning English for the occasion and wants to raise the puppies just as they would be raised in the United States. He plans to order more bloodhounds, which are used for deer hunting and deer blood tracing.

Pilk wanted an American bloodhound rather than one of the European varieties because of superior physical characteristics. The breed is the only animal whose tracking is accepted as evidence in the courtroom. Called the "Father of all scent and hunting hounds of today," the bloodhound can pick up a trail up to 14 days old.

Other puppies in the litter had a ways to travel to meet their new owners in Mississippi, Ohio and even the Atlanta State Penitentiary.

Hunting Dates Set

Upland game hunting will begin in Illinois this year at sunrise on Saturday, Nov. 8.

Tony Dean, director of the conservation department, said that cock pheasant and Hungarian partridge will be hunted Nov. 8 through Dec. 31, sunrise to sunset, with a bag limit of two per day and four in possession.

McDonough, Warren and Hancock counties, closed to pheasant hunting for several years because of an experimental stocking program, will be open for hunting this year.

Quail and rabbit seasons will be Nov. 8 through Jan. 15, sunrise to sunset.

Exciting Duel

Ray Young won the closest late model feature race of the season Sunday night at Waukegan Speedway as he edged Tom Jones.

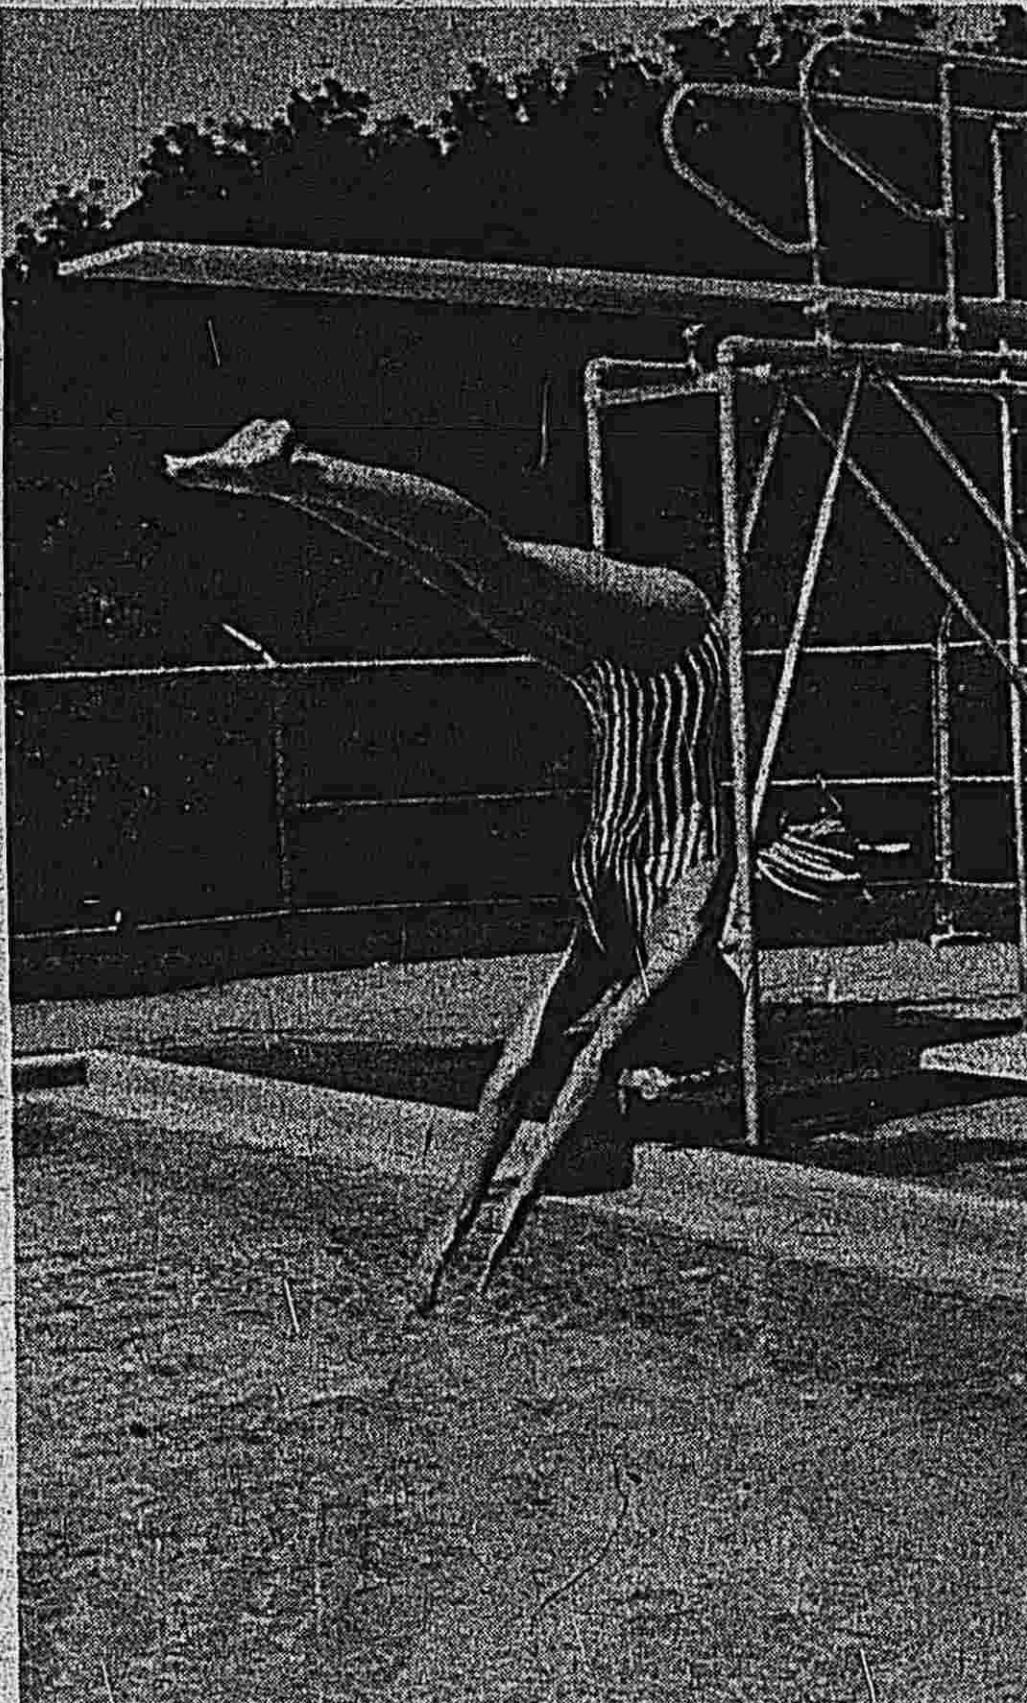

Saturday's races were canceled due to the daylong rain so Sunday's events served as the final tuneup before the 50-lap August championships slated this Saturday night.

Young started out the evening by posting fast time, just ahead of Jones who was guest-driving Rick Kleich's No. 98 Nova.

Jones won the preliminaries carrying the checkered flag after both the six-lap dash and the 10-lap fast heat race. Meanwhile Phil Mass was a double winner, taking both the slow heat and the 12-lap semi-feature.

The feature shaped up to be one of the best of the year with most of the area's top drivers entered.

Young opened up a lead until Jones trimmed it down in the 24th lap and Jones bumped and banged but could not get in front of the 43-year-old Young at the finish as both cars came off the fourth turn side-by-side.

Applies for Second Siren

Director Edward Frazier has announced that the Antioch Civil Defense Agency has made an application for a second air raid siren. "This means," Frazier said, "if approved, the federal government will pay half the cost of the siren or warning device."

It would be located in the Oakwood Knoll area. In the event of a tornado or a man-made disaster, Oakwood Knoll area residents would be warned before disaster strikes, Frazier said.

We are what we think about all day long.

Antioch Auto Mechanic Is Saturday Night Star

RACING AT WILMOT

By JOE VAN ZANDT

Remember the cartoon characters in the comics section of the Sunday paper? A classic was the Gasoline Alley comic strip. It featured the fellows in the local repair shop who lived and breathed cars of all kinds. Well, believe it or not, some of those places still exist and one of them is just west of Antioch on Route 173.

Yep, it's the Antioch Auto Center, where you'll find an ungodly collection of rusting 1938 Chevies; a shiny hot rod with 15 coats of candy-apple paint and a bulging chrome engine sticking out; a few ordinary cars waiting for repairs; and three or four race cars in line for a fender to be straightened or maybe a wheel put back on.

USUALLY, YOU'LL find Roger Hagi there. He's an old-time stock car jockey whose No. 14 has been taken over by his 18-year-old son Dan. Then there's Carmen Manzardo, who grew up in Antioch, went away to college to study auto mechanics, and is back home now doing what he likes best - working on cars and racing at Wilmot on Saturday nights.

Of course, there is always the usual collection of young boys hanging around, watching the mechanics work, inspecting the insides of the race cars, and hoping for a lift up to the races on Saturday nights. And last but not least at the Antioch Auto Center, you'll probably run into Don Collins.

Don is a 25-year-old bachelor. He lives right across the highway from the garage, and he works there as a mechanic. But on Saturday nights, the good-looking, clean-cut, All-American young man takes off his coveralls, dons a flashy white, fireproof suit, straps on a crash helmet, and roars down the track at Wilmot with only one thought on his mind - winning.

DON COLLINS is a stock car driver and a good one at that.

DON COLLINS behind the wheel of his No. 4 Charger.

This year he's right up near the top of the point standings on the IRA (Interstate Racing Assn.) circuit and has won several races and turned fastest qualifying time with a regularity that infuriates his opponents.

Collins drives the familiar No. 4, a flashy red, white and blue Dodge Charger, which is a favorite of the several thousand fans who turn out each week to cheer their hometown drivers on. His popularity stems in part from his image as an underdog racing against all those Chevies.

Then, too, the fans like his aggressive driving style. He passes anywhere on the track and doesn't seem to care if it's inside, outside or right between two cars. As Don explains, "Heck, I'm out there to have fun and to win and that means taking chances. I've spun out 10 or 12 times but it doesn't bother me. It's just one more notch on the shifter."

DON HAD his share of danger during four years in the Air Force, loading bombs on planes destined for Hanoi and points north. So driving a race car at 80 mph down a crowded track is duck soup for him now.

The Collins car runs a big, mean 426-cubic-inch hemi-head engine, which breathes fire and sounds like a jet with its afterburners on. The engine was built by Darnel-Timan of Skokie, race car designers.

As for his car, it's a low-slung machine with only a few inches of clearance between it and the track surface. Even the driver's seat is as low as it can be. But that's how Don likes it. "I want a car that won't roll over no matter how hard I go into the turns," he says. "There's only one way this car will go over, and that's if someone pushes it."

THE COMBINATION of car, engine and driver has proven a Exciting Softball Duel Set!

The Antioch village crew (the younger people) have challenged the firemen (the older people) to a game of 16-inch softball.

The big contest is scheduled for 7 p.m. this Saturday at the Little League field on Williams St.

Spectators are welcome. The firemen practiced Monday night and suffered a casualty, losing one of their star players. Dan Kasik pulled tendons in his fingers.

Since he can't appear in the lineup and hit home runs, Dan has agreed to serve as manager Saturday night.

Don Collins

formidable one. Last year Collins finished fourth overall and won four feature races, including three at the Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot and one at Lake Geneva.

But it wasn't always that way. Collins recalls his rookie year, when he'd come into the corners a little slow and get bumped in the tail end every time. "After a few weeks of that kind of bouncing around, plus the work involved straightening out the car, you start getting the message," he said. "Now it's me giving the other guys the shots going into the turns."

And what about plans for the future?

"I like what I'm doing," Collins says candidly. "My goal in racing is to win a track championship. After I do that, then I may give some thought to what comes next. In the meantime, I'm going to keep right on working here at the auto center and doing what I like best - and that's fixing cars and racing."

Postmaster and His Wife Enjoy 6 Weeks in Europe

Antioch's postmaster, Walter Barnas, is back from a six-week vacation in which he and his wife visited Ireland, England, Scotland and Italy.

They spent most of their time in Ireland where Mrs. Barnas, whose maiden name was Maurita O'Connell, has relatives in several communities.

She also has a cousin who drives a limousine in London, which proved ideal for a tour of that city.

In Rome, they took part in a Papal audience, then flew back to Ireland.

Mr. Barnas said the most impressive thing about Ireland is its beauty - "its colors, its greens and the low mountains."

"It reminded me of Wisconsin," he said, "with many dairy farms, but with stone fences rather than wire."

In Galway they stayed in a 400-year-old castle, in which one of Mrs. Barnas' relatives lives.

Wally is a member of the Rotary Club of Antioch and managed to attend a Rotary meeting in Galway. The president of the club was a Mr. Patrick Ryan.

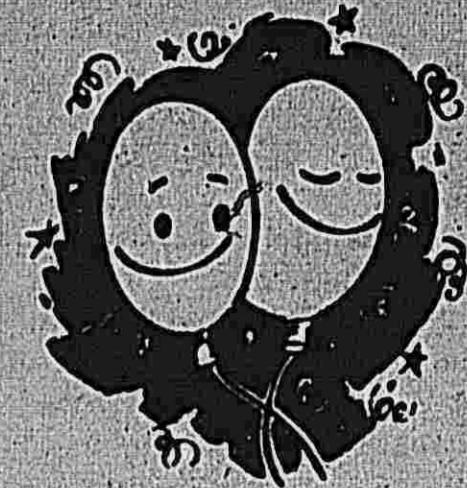

Wally said the temperature is only 45 or 50 degrees during most summer days in Ireland. On one day the thermometer "Soared" to 85, the hottest temperature Ireland has had in 100 years.

"I advise anyone to visit there," Wally said. "The Irish are very honest people and they're good people. They're also very interested in our country. The children are interested in our politics; every child I talked to, from age 13 on up, asked for my views on our presidents and Henry Kissinger."

Ireland's beautiful beaches and the castles in Edinburgh,

Scotland, were other highlights of the Barnas' trip.
